V. Administration:

- Students should know that there are cancelled classes. The students don't need to fill out drop forms but they need add to maintain fulltime status.
- Students need to go to their assigned classrooms. Sometimes the instructors are changed and the students will know if they go to the assigned classrooms. Don't just wait for the instructor.
- Students must make sure they are full time, so they can be eligible for financial aid.
- Dean reminds everyone of the policies. Alcohol and tobacco policies: Drinking alcohol is not allowed on campus. Chewing betel nut must be on the seawall only.
- Attendance policy: student must be aware that there is a policy on attendance. If a student does not show up for a specified number of times, automatic withdrawal is possible.

- -Cecilia Oliveros member of the Campus Beautification Committee announces that next week will start regional beautification projects.
- Prizes will be given at the end of the semester to the region with the best garden. (They will see which region has the beautiful garden).

VII. Questions and Concerns:

- Concern was raised from a student name Tesloff on low enrollment. Tessloff finds the entrance testing as one main reason for the decreasing number of student this semester. Student finds the test too difficult for them.
- Erson asked a question on activities here at the college. Is it true that each semester a student pay activity fee? If I am not enrolled this semester should I be allowed to play in the intramural games when the prizes are from the activity fund?
- If a student is awarded for two semesters and the student still have left over money from Pell grant, what happened to it?
